

TOTS PROVIDE $9,000 RELIEF

Junior Red Cross School Report Covers Period Since July 1, 1919.

NEW PLANS DISCUSSED

Miss Goding Accepts Appointment as Chairman For Another Year.

Children in the schools of the District of Columbia have subscribed nearly $9,000 for Red Cross work since July 1, 1919, according to the annual report of Miss Anne M. Goding, chairman of the school committee chapter of the Junior Red Cross, filed yesterday with the Board of Education.

Miss Goding, who is principal of the Wilson Normal School and who has been chairman of the Junior Red Cross since its organization in 1917, has been asked by Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools, to serve for another year, and has consented.

New Plans Discussed.

At a meeting yesterday in the board room of the Franklin School, supervising principals arranged dates for meetings of teachers to discuss Red Cross plans for the coming year.

The first meeting will be held at the Wilson Normal School October 29. Motion picture films will be shown, illustrating the needs of the children of the world for assistance from the Red Cross. The same films will be shown teachers of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth divisions at Dunbar High School, October 31.

Work for Relief.

Besides 99 "refugee chairs" made by boys in the manual training schools, the following articles constitute a small part of the work done by Washington children for the relief of their less fortunate brothers and sisters in this and other countries:

Eighty-nine baby blankets, 57 dresses, 25 kimono, 108 infant layettes, 24 petticoats, 107 children's scarves, 98 boys' shirts, 92 pairs stockings, 61 sweaters, 39 undershirts, 67 pillow cases, 33 pillows, 324 drawers, 195 chemises, and numerous other articles, including 142 classes as miscellaneous.

Miss Goding's report shows that ninety-seven public and four private schools in the District were enrolled in the Junior Red Cross.

Woman Will Hang Friday if Wilson Turns Down Plea

A delegation of colored people, headed by Harry L. Tignor, counsel for Josephine Berry, colored, who is to be hanged Friday, will call upon Secretary Tumulty at the White House at noon today and make a final plea that the woman's life be spared.

The delegation will include clergymen, school teachers, lawyers and civic workers. Although the President has refused to interfere with the execution Tignor still believes that there is a chance.

Josephine Berry shot and killed Ada King, colored, in May, 1919.

FATHER SUES ROAD FOR DEATH OF SON

William N. Southern, father of Edward C. Southern, deceased, and administrator of his son's estate, filed suit against the Washington Railway and Electric Company yesterday in the District Supreme Court for $10,000 damages for the death of his son.

According to the father's declaration, young Southern met his death while a passenger on an army truck on Georgia avenue northwest on October 12, 1919, when a street car hit the truck.

WOMEN ORGANIZE TO CLEAN UP CITY

"A civic housekeeping" committee was appointed yesterday by the Housekeepers' Alliance to co-operate with District officials in a campaign for "a cleaner Washington."

Mrs. John Kondrup was named chairman of the committee. Miss Ellen Vinton and Mrs. C. H. Stewart are other members of the committee.

The first quarterly session of the alliance will be held the third Tuesday in November.

COURT SCENE FILMED IN MOVE FOR PLAYGROUND EXTENSION

Suppose you were a police court judge and found your judicial sanctum turned into a movie studio by the Washington Rotary Club—wouldn't it ruffle your magisterial composure?

But Judge Hardison of the District branch of the Police Court at Sixth and D streets northwest is very good natured, especially just after lunch, so yesterday afternoon when he entered his courtroom and found all the appearances of Universal City he just calmly sat down and did not even sniff at the reek of smoke which filled the room.

"We just want to make a close-up of the prisoner in the dock," said Director Andrew A. Crawford of the National Pictorial News, pointing to the youthful "prisoner."

"All right," said the judge.

For an audience the youthful actor had the spectators and participants who had filled the space outside the rail and who were awaiting the real business of the afternoon.

"We're going to take it this time," said the camera man to the boy.

The boy registered deep thought and the camera man shot.

Before the movie people had had an opportunity to remove their apparatus the voice of the Clerk of the Court sang out, "John R. Colangelo."

And John R. Colangelo took the place of the boy in the dock. The actors had gone and the real play began.

The picture is being filmed under the direction of the Washington Rotary Club and will be displayed locally in connection with the movement to secure a Congressional appropriation for more playgrounds for the District.

There are 125,000 children in the District of Columbia and only enough playground accommodations for 12,000.

GUN EPIDEMIC HITS CAPITAL

Six Wounded in Four Days In Shooting Affrays In District.

Six victims of gunshot wounds treated at Emergency Hospital since Thursday have convinced surgeons of the need of a law to regulate sale of firearms here.

The first to be treated was Mrs. Marian Cheshire, 302 Indiana avenue northwest. While visiting friends her husband was being shown a pistol. "I want loaded," but it went off just the same. She will recover.

Friday night Detective Sergeant Frank M. Allgood and Edwin M. Monk were brought in after attempting to intercept a pair of gunmen.

Sunday, Moses Milton, colored, of Alexandria, walked into the hospital with his mother and said he had been hit in the chest with a .22 caliber bullet.

Monday, John Butler, colored, 1405 East Capitol street, was brought to the Emergency with a bad wound in his abdomen. He said it followed an argument after an "African golf" session.

William Ernst, 27 Florida avenue northwest, was brought to the hospital by two companions Monday night with a bullet through a lung. He is said to be dying.

Ferdinand D. Williams, colored, was treated at Freedman's Hospital last Friday for a pistol wound received in a football game at Howard University.

ALLEY HOUSES CALLED UNSAFE

Find Unsanitary Conditions, Committee Reveals in Annual Report.

Alley dwellings in the District are "more or less in an insanitary condition," according to the annual report of the Board for Condemnation of Insanitary Buildings, submitted to the Commissioners yesterday.

Bad living conditions in alley houses are due to uncertainty of the time set for all alley dwellings to be vacated, the report stated. The act of Congress of September 25, 1914, providing for the abolishment of alley dwellings was practically nullified in power, temporarily, by an amendment to the act in 1918.

At present there are 2,828 alley dwellings in the District. Of this number the commission reported 535 as dilapidated.

Forty-eight alley dwellings were demolished during the past fiscal year, as against 76 buildings on streets. A total of 784 of the former class of buildings was demolished since the creation of the condemnation board.

STRICTER AUTO CODE PROPOSED

Board Named to Study Methods of Granting Driving Permits.

Determined to make more drastic regulations for issuance of permits to drive automobiles in the District, the Commissioners yesterday appointed a committee to accomplish this.

Maj. Frank S. Benson, assistant engineer commissioner, is chairman of the committee. The other members are Maj. Harry L. Gessford, superintendent of police; Francis H. Stephens, corporation counsel; Rudolph Jose, president of the Washington Cadillac Company; and S. A. Luttrell, president of the Washington Packard Company.

The committee's work will be to suggest new regulations. It is probable that the matter will be taken up with Congress.

Yankee Hosiery Needed By People of Caucasasia

There is a market for American hosiery in the "Union of Caucasasia," according to a report to the Department of Commerce from Consul Moser, at Tiflis, who says that there is practically no hosiery manufactured in this district.

The only practical method of making sales would be through a personal representative in the district, with full authority to purchase local products for importation into the United States as a means of transferring the proceeds of American sales.
